

BRUTALLY ASSASSINATED.Leon Superintendent of Schools Shot in the Dark.

Tallahassee, September 4.—A horrible crime was committed in Leon county last night. Hon. N. W. Epps, for twelve years County Superintendent of Schools, and recently renominated for the same office, was assassinated about 7 o'clock p.m. He was a Confederate veteran, aged about sixty years, and a great-grandson of Thomas Jefferson. A wife, four daughters and one son survive him.

It was Mr. Epps' custom to travel alone in a buggy. His horse was very gentle and allowed to select his own pace. His home was at Bradfordville, ten miles north of Tallahassee, and it was his custom to leave town late in the day for home.

About 9 o'clock last night a telephone message came from his friend and neighbor, W. H. Lester, to "send a doctor and the Sheriff. Mr. Epps has been shot."

Drs. Palmer and Brevard hurried to the Epps home, where they found the man cold in death. Three deputy sheriffs also hurried to Bradfordville, and worked on the case all night without finding a clue, or even a suspicion, as to the cause for the crime, or who committed it.

Judge R. A. Whitfield went out this morning to hold an inquest on the dead body.

Dr. H. E. Palmer says it looks like a deliberately planned assassination. The assassin was there waiting for Mr. Epps to come along, and deliberately stepped into the road, behind the buggy, and placing the muzzle of a shotgun within eighteen inches of his neck, fired, instantly breaking his neck and tearing out the base of the brain. Mr. Epps never knew what hit him or that he was hit.

A report reached here tonight from Bradfordville that a young negro having in his possession gun cartridges that matched those used to murder Mr. Epps had been arrested, and would be brought here tonight to be lodged in the Leon county jail to await trial for the dastardly crime.

Since the above was put in type, several negroes have been arrested, charged with being implicated in the crime. One of them has confessed, implicating many others, and stating that they were members of "Before Day" clubs, which were organized for the purpose of killing many white persons.

FOR THE PHOTOGRAPHER.6 Solution Which Will Remove Stains From Films.

If a plate is "light struck," the resulting fog cannot be removed. The only thing that can be done is to hold back the fog as much as possible with a developer intended to produce great contrast. It is often impossible to remove stains that penetrate the film. But there are certain surface stains and forms of fog that can generally be removed without much difficulty. One stain of this kind is an iridescent marking around the edge of the negative, a stain that appears brown by transmitted light and produces decidedly lighter shades in the print. These markings may not be more than a quarter of an inch deep around the edge of the negative or they may extend inward several inches. This trouble is usually caused by plates which have begun to spoil through age or by plates that have been kept in a damp place.

Sometimes the negative contains brown spots all over the surface, resembling the above stain, except in location. These spots are generally produced by siccum which forms in some developers if they stand for a time or if they have been previously used.

A surface fog, caused by prolonged development, is of very common occurrence. Some developers tend very strongly to produce this kind of fog if the plate is at all forced or if the solution is a trifle warm. Other developers will not produce the fog unless development is greatly prolonged or the solution is very warm or is too strong.

Frequently stains are caused by the developing tray not being clean or especially if a little hypo gets into the developer.

All of the above defects of fog or stain can be removed by the use of this solution: Water, ten ounces; hypo, one ounce; red prussiate of potash, five grains.

Place the negative in this solution and rock the tray constantly, so that the action of the prussiate will be even. The negative must be well washed, and as soon as the stains are removed it should be taken from the solution and thoroughly washed. This solution reduces the image, especially in the shadows. Consequently the negative should be removed before it is too thin. The working strength of this bath depends largely upon the temperature. In cold weather it is well to make the solution stronger, and in summer it should be weaker. This bath does not keep; consequently it should be mixed immediately before using.

GLENWOODSpecial Correspondence.

Glenwood, September 7, 1904.—Who could not enjoy the nice showers we are having this week?

Mr. Keown came home Tuesday after spending a few days with his family at Goodall. He reports fishing good and shrimps plentiful, and the company were all having a pleasant time, except Rev. West, who has been unfortunate and got a fall which hurt him so he could not fish for a few days, but he is expected to go at it in a short time again. They expect to stay until the last of next week.

Mr. Drury was surveying off the land belonging to the Norrises and McAbes this week.

H. J. Sprout and family are expected home from St. Louis Thursday. E. H. Shoemaker and Dr. E. R. Brush, of Daytona, spent Sunday and Monday with friends here, going back on Tuesday. While here E. H. thought he would amuse himself awhile Monday morning catching frogs. While at the pond he saw two alligators. He went and got a rifle, shot a six feet gator, and caught twenty frogs. They skinned the gator and took the skin to Daytona. Mr. Shoemaker said he was sorry he could not go back the next day and get another one, but his time was limited.

Everybody seems to be busy; some commencing their fall gardens, others plowing groves, and some making hay.

Tragedy Averted.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved," writes Mrs. W. Wadins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia had played sad havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound and well." Every body ought to know it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung diseases. Guaranteed by G. W. Fisher and W. A. Allen & Co., Druggists. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free.

Delinquent Taxes.

The Tribune was designated to publish the delinquent tax-list of the special bond taxes for this year. When Tax Collector Worth completed his collections, it was found that the list for publication would be limited to one item—all but 57 cents of the taxes having been paid. Such a showing of the prosperity of the county could not pass unnoticed and, in order to make a clean sweep of the matter, Mr. Worth suggested that he would pay the 57 cents himself. So, there will be no delinquent list of bond taxes in Hillsborough county this year—Tampa Tribune.

To kill the Taste for Liquor.

The following remedy it is said will effect a permanent cure:

"I was one of those unfortunate given to strong drink. When I left off I had a horrid want of something I must have or go disgraced. I could neither eat, work or sleep. Explaining my affliction to a man of much education and experience, he advised me to take a decoction of ground quassia, a half ounce steeped in a pint of vinegar, and to put about a small teaspoonful of it in a little water, and drink it down every time the liquor thirst came on me violently."

"I found it satisfied the cravings, and it gave a feeling of stimulus and strength. I continued this cure and persevered until the thirst was conquered. For two years I have not tasted liquor, and I have no desire for it. Lately, to try my strength I have handled and smelt whisky, but I have no temptation to take it. I give this for the consideration of the unfortunate, several of whom I know have recovered by the means which I no longer require."

Sprains.

S. A. Head, Cisco, Texas, writes, March 11, 1901: "My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25¢, 50¢, $1.

There is no sense in a man abiding the town he lives in. If we lived astride the north pole, we would call it home and always be found boasting it up. If we couldn't say a nice thing about it we would inform our friends that our ice hill didn't come very high. We would not live in a town we had to leave—not while the world is as big as it is.

What's in a Name?

Everything is in a name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by G. W. Fisher.

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat?

When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship.

And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success. The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $1000 each. For every dollar you can save for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $50 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $500 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woolens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.
